Statement of Purpose

By forming a virtual and in-person community with those who care about children's and young adult literature, we strive to:

- take action to make good books well-known
- collaborate on projects that will bring prominent attention to the importance of reading, teaching, libraries, and good writing
- provide tools for education and independent study
- advocate for excellence and diversity within the publishing industry
- build a solid support network among all those who are passionate about the creation of children's literature and encouraging young people to read books that will create lifelong readers.

Your membership enables CLN to enhance its benefits for you, strengthens our network, and brings attention to your work.
